Beurer Nebulisers offer relief during cold season

Ulm, 27 January 2025 – The German health specialist Beurer will be presenting its new IH 51, IH 47 and IH 16 Nebulisers at Arab Health 2025 in Dubai from 27 to 30 January 2025.

In the cold season, respiratory diseases become a challenge for many people. Dry air, low temperatures and waves of colds put a strain on the respiratory tract and can lead to irritation and discomfort. With its nebulisers, the German health expert Beurer offers an effective solution to relieve respiratory problems and promote well-being.

Beurer's advanced nebulisers enable optimal medication nebulisation and efficient active ingredient absorption. From respiratory problems caused by colds to chronic diseases such as asthma and bronchitis - inhalation therapy offers the right support for every need. The devices are easy to use and carry the tiny active ingredient particles deep into the upper and lower respiratory tract, where they can work effectively.

The small and lightweight IH 51 Nebuliser and IH 47 Nebuliser are perfect for home and on the go. The innovative vibrating membrane technology ensures fast and effective inhalation with whisper-quiet operation. The nebulisers are particularly handy and quiet and are suitable for adults and children alike

The compressor compressed air technology of the IH 16 Nebuliser produces the finest particles that transport the active ingredients deep into the lungs. Thanks to its small and compact design, the IH 16 is ideal for holistic respiratory therapy in adults and children.

All Beurer highlights will be presented at Arab Health from 27 to 30 January 2025 in Dubai World Trade Center, Booth #H4.E30.
