

Woman's Life: Be well-supported in every stage of life

Ulm, 12 November 2023 – Menstruation, menopause, family planning or post-natal recovery – the different phases of life that women go through each present their body with new challenges. Ulm-based health specialist Beurer has designed the Woman's Life range and thoughtful product solutions to empower women and make them the experts on their own bodies. Beurer will be at the international MEDICA trade fair (Düsseldorf, 13 to 16 November 2023), presenting the new product line in Hall 10, Stand D20.

Woman's Life focuses on the different phases of a woman's life. It centres on topics such as period pain, natural contraception, fertility, pregnancy and menopause. Alongside suitable product solutions, women can consult the dedicated web page to discover targeted information to better understand their body and build their knowledge.

Menstrual Relax Pads: For period pain and endometriosis

The Menstrual Relax EM 50 and Menstrual Relax+ EM 55 pads for period pain can offer relief from recurrent menstrual pain and endometriosis-related spasms in the lower abdominal muscles*. They feature an innovative combination of TENS and heat function to bring comfort exactly where it is needed – quickly, easily and without medication.

- 15 individually adjustable intensity levels of soothing pulses: for abdominal relaxation and reduced pain.
- Soothing heat function
- Special EM 55 feature: this product has a larger shape and heat surface for even more warmth.
- Both products are made from medical-grade silicone and have an extremely thin, flexible design which can be discreetly worn under clothing.
- A rechargeable battery means the products are also suitable for use on-the-go.

Ovulation thermometer: For cycle monitoring and fertility analysis

Ovulation thermometers help women monitor their natural cycle and determine their fertile days while trying to conceive. How it is different from a normal thermometer: ovulation thermometers display the temperature to two decimal places, which means a more precise value.

BasalControl Basic OT 20 and BasalControl Smart OT 30 Bluetooth®

- Measures basal temperature and can be used in conjunction with the "Ovy" app. For natural family planning (NFP) and conception control based on the symptothermal method.
- With the OT 20, values are manually transferred to the app. The OT 30 offers automatic Bluetooth® transfer to the smartphone.
- Display to 2 decimal places
- Wireless transfer of temperature values
- Measurement accuracy: $\pm 0.05^{\circ}\text{C}$

OT 30

Monitoring temperature in the framework of the symptothermal method is a scientifically recognised form of natural family planning (NFP). This determines fertile and infertile days in a woman's cycle based on a range of body signals including basal body temperature.

Pelvic floor training aids: Active strengthening from within

Beurer PelviStrong PT 20 pelvic floor training aids are an ideal enhancement for pelvic floor training during pregnancy, after birth and around menopause.

- This type of training can promote awareness, strengthening and active control of weakened pelvic floor muscles.
- Facilitates active training using the biofeedback principle, and supports the gradual and active building-up of pelvic floor muscles.
- Just 10 minutes twice a day is enough to strengthen muscles.
- The set contains three tampon-like cones of different weights: Turquoise: 28g; fir green: 52 g; midnight blue: 71g.
